*Editor's
Foreword*

In keeping with time honored tradition, we assume the duty of recording, in permanent form, the history of the University's year. This year the task has been a pleasant one—easy because there was so much to include—hard because so much, of necessity, had to be left out.

It has been our aim to make this book a true picture of everyday life on our campus, to set down with ink and paper something of the living and vivid spirit that is the University of Toledo. Where we have praised it has been with pride in the achievements of our fellows, where we have laughed it has been with friendliness, not malice.

The task is done. The history of another year is closed. And now we present the Fourteenth annual edition of the Blockhouse, the story of the University of Toledo for 1935-1936.

Editor's Foreword

In keeping with time honored tradition, we assume the duty of recording, in permanent form, the history of the University's year. This year the task has been a pleasant one—easy because there was so much to include—hard because so much, of necessity, had to be left out.

It has been our aim to make this book a true picture of everyday life on our campus, to set down with ink and paper something of the living and vivid spirit that is the University of Toledo. Where we have praised it has been with pride in the achievements of our fellows, where we have laughed it has been with friendliness, not malice.

The task is done. The history of another year is closed. And now we present the Fourteenth annual edition of the Blockhouse, the story of the University of Toledo for 1935-1936.

The labors of the Staff in compiling the 1936 Blockhouse seem much more worth while with the thought of producing something of enduring value, and the opportunity to give credit where credit is due.

This year we honor a man who in a short span of years has endeared himself to administrative officers and students alike.

As Director of the Junior College he became a true friend and inspiration of every student with whom he came in contact.

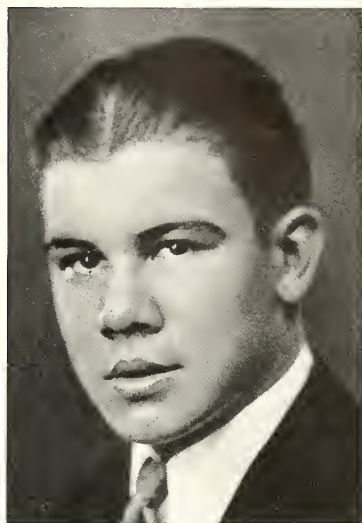

Shortly after the untimely death of our beloved Dean McKinnon, last year, the position of Dean of Administration and Director of the Junior College were combined and the man selected to fill these responsibilities is none other than this same man to whom the 1936 staff dedicates its Blockhouse, our Dr. Raymond L. Carter.

FRANK T. SWEENEY

Fast as the rolling seasons bring
 The hour of fate
 to those we love,
Each pearl that leaves
 the broken string
 Is set in Friendship's
 crown above.
As narrower grows
 the earthly chain
 The circle widens
 in the sky;
These are our treasures
 that remain
 But those are stars that beam on high.

The duties of the members of the board of directors are concerned with voting on matters of policy and expenditure within the University. Appointments to the Board of Directors are made by the Mayor of the City of Toledo, who at the present time is the Honorable Roy C. Start. A large share of the University's success and development may be attributed to the cooperation of members of the Board of Directors.

B O A R D O F D I R E C T O R S

In 1872, Jessup W. Scott bequeathed a tract of land and a sum of money, with the specification that the gift was to be used in developing a school which he called the School of Arts and Trades.

It was from this beginning that the University has grown to its present size. The status of the University was endangered subsequently when the Board of Education attempted to assume control and to transform it into a vocational school. William H. Tucker, then a member of the Board of Directors, vigorously fought this attempt. Mr. Tucker, an attorney, held his ground against the members of the Board of Education. In remembrance of the time and effort spent by him to insure the development of the University as an institution of higher learning, one of the two faculty apartments completed in the spring of 1935 has been named Tucker Hall. In honor of the founder of the University, the other has been named Scott Hall.

A strong leader, with good common sense, President Philip C. Nash is not alone the head of an educational institution, but a companion in all worth-while endeavors undertaken by students of the University of Toledo and the citizens of the city.

He is a capable guardian of all university life; a man whose integrity, intelligence, and inspiration are widely acknowledged.

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICIALS

★ DEANS AND DIRECTORS

Aside from carrying on regular class room work, the deans and directors of the University of Toledo are responsible for numerous other duties. They must act as advisers, serve on committees, aid in administrative affairs and assist in other capacities.

The University has five colleges, including Education, Business Administration, Arts and Sciences, Law, and Engineering, giving degrees, with a Dean at the head of each. The Junior College is a separate college of the first two years of the University.

The heads of these various colleges meet with President Philip C. Nash to discuss policies concerning the University and any recommendations are referred to the Board of Directors. At these meetings the curriculum of the different colleges are approved by the faculty as a whole. If anything unusual is suggested at the meetings such as starting a new department which will mean additional expenditures, it is turned over to the Board of Directors for consideration.

Instructors are not usually confined to one college due to an insufficient number of faculty members, so that some must carry on a schedule of classes, related to more than one college.

In addition to the administrative work, the Deans meet with members of the faculty of their department, and hold conferences with students regarding work in the specific department.

The general purpose of the administrative office of the University is to integrate various functions of the institution, to stimulate professional study and specific study of problems, and to promote the program of the administration work here.

THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1936

As versatile a group as any you could find . . . the senior class of 1936. Will you have an athlete, a debater, actor, reporter, musician, honor student, political campaign leader, or beauty queen? They're all represented in this class of 200 graduates who step forth in cap and gown with four full and useful years behind them, and many more ahead.

Under the leadership of Willard Rex, class president, Wilbur Schroeder, vice-president, Floyd Potter, secretary, and Edward Golding, treasurer, they have launched into many varied activities.

Athletics, politics, and term papers have not crowded out social affairs. The Senior Prom was the crowning event of them all. Edwin Klag stepped out of his role as a shining light of the debate squad to act as chairman of the committee.

Now you must meet a few of the personalities whose glory adds luster to this record . . . Nita Gavaris, whose energy and friendliness have made her the guiding star of the Peppers, the Collegian, and other student organizations. . . . Bob Biehl, president of the Arx, a football and basketball star, and outstanding student of the College of Law . . . Lamora Mueller, an all-around athlete with a fine scholastic record and president of the W.A.A. . . . For the new University marching song, "Blue and Gold" we are indebted to Aubry Forman. So they go . . . leaving a larger and more beautiful campus, confident they have witnessed the beginning of a greater University to be developed by those who shall rise to claim their heritage.

THE CLASS OF 1936

Freshmen may have the record for greenness, but no one can top the Juniors in pride and self-confidence. For haven't they already taken part in many activities, with the promise of the best year of them all ahead in which to accomplish even greater things?

They are alert and aspiring, the Juniors who last spring elected Elgin Brooks to head their class, with Donald Carter as vice-president, Ernest Walker as secretary, and Herbert Dorman as treasurer. Leona Jacobs has capably filled her position on the Student Council, as did James Kressler who lent his vim and vigor to that worthy body as well as to the student cheering sections during fall football games. Not to be outdone by other classes, the Juniors placed twenty-five of their number on the honor roll.

JUNIORS · THE CLASS OF 1937

The female element in the class must not be denied its share of recognition. As sophomores Eleanor Horn, Doris Seeger, Lucille Hammontree, Anna Belle Dusing and Alice Williams were admitted to the select circle of the Peppers.

To Clarence "Red" Palm, sturdy linesman, goes much of the credit for T.U.'s gridiron success last fall, while Charles Cupp won many a point in the basketball games. Bill Rosenberg brought publicity to the entire student body as associate editor of the Collegian, while Herbert Dorman served as Business Manager and Jack Striggow as Advertising Manager.

The Junior class showed its initiative in being the first class ever to buy its Senior rings in the Junior year. Clarence Palm was chairman of the committee, assisted by Harriet Chapman, Evelyn Druckenmiller, Ruth Frick, George Bleckner, and Robert Faber.

As it is to every Junior Class, the Junior Prom held on January 24, was the crowning event of the year, especially as it was held after the storm and stress of examination week. Carlton Frick, chairman of the committee, arranged the Grand March, for all classmen, for which James Huber's orchestra played. Rae Wilbur, Carmen Lee, Lucille Hammontree, Virginia Baker, Ernest Zimmerman, Herbert Dorman, and Louis Giese assisted him.

Here they come! With assurance and visions of a yet happier and fuller year, the Juniors press onward and upward, their greatest successes still ahead.

Sophomores rarely rate much attention, as a class. The public eye is fixed on the aspirations of the seniors, and the quaint blunders of precocious freshmen, while the sophomore is left to the doubtful freedom of an ever increasing schedule and his own conscience. A survey at the end of the year shows that this class has been neither idle nor unproductive.

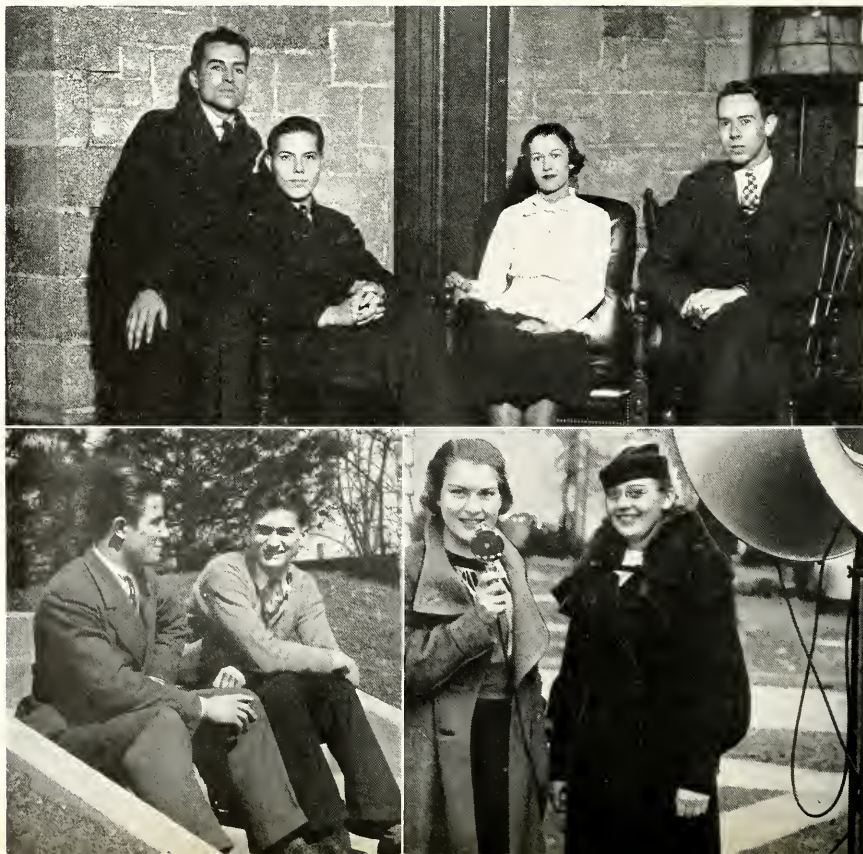

SOPHOMORES CLASS OF 1938

Under the leadership of Basil Root as president, June Crafts, vice-president, Robert Smith, treasurer, and James Moore, secretary, the class has been well represented in every activity.

Margery Devlin was chairman of a committee including Charles Gibbons, Fred Lipp, Ethel Dull, Catherine Root, and Martha Jane Breitenwischer, for the Sophomore Prom, a brilliant Spring event, held April 24.

Twenty Sophomore students were on the honor roll.

Names that will shine in University events for the next two years are already taking on a lustre: Dale Crow, outstanding athlete, and honor student . . . Betty Heyn, well known for her work on the Collegian and in girl's athletics, as well as membership in Alpha Phi Gamma . . . Jack Merrill and June Spaur, active in dramatics and the chorus . . . and Theodore Ulmer, debater and reporter.

With its knowledge of all phases of University life this group of 1938 will return to mould their lives along educational and cultural lines, and to set the stamp of their own individuality on the fascinating history of their Alma Mater.

After the first rush of registration, attending classes, and buying books, the class of 1939, composed of 650 students, elected as class officers Robert Troup, president, Duane Cadmus, vice-president, Virginia Stachowicz, secretary, Donald Bishop, treasurer, and the student council representatives, Alice Featherstone and George Schaiberger.

FRESHMEN • THE CLASS OF 1939

The first large social affair was the party given by the Men's Union for freshmen men. The committee for the main event of their year, the Freshman Dance, held at the Trianon on November 29, was headed by Mary Kay Larkin, and included Yolando Floripe, Virginia Byrne, Jeanne Jones, Robert Friauf, Evan Price, and William Tobin. Freshmen men and women expressed their interest in other social affairs by accepting fraternity and sorority bids. The fraternities pledged 116 men and the sororities took in 72 women.

That upper classmen aren't the only persons interested in school life was clearly demonstrated this year by the freshmen who participated in athletic, dramatic, musical and literary fields.

Among the thirty-six freshmen who went out for football were Jim Boyd, Finish Brown, Ed Siminski, Ralph Weisenberg, Dave Abel, and Willard Swihart. Seventeen freshmen were on the honor roll.

Outstanding freshmen in dramatics were Jane Staiger, Joe Flynn, and Robert Fox, who took part in the three major productions of the Dramatic Association. Alice Featherstone, Marjorie Ebert, and Bernard Schramm distinguished themselves by the work they did on the Collegian.

From the interest and activity that the class of 1939 has shown in one year at the University, upper classmen feel that competent hands are ready to take over school affairs.

The Pan-

WHERE GREEK

The Pan Hellenic Council was founded in 1925. The purpose of this council is to promote the interest of the University, and of the fraternities of which it is composed. The attempts to secure cooperation among the fraternities and between the University authorities to the end that such interest may be best served, has been decidedly accomplished during the recent year.

The council is composed of two representatives from each fraternity. Each year the presidency of the council is rotated among the fraternities according to an established order.

On April 17 the Pan Hellenic council held a dance at the Trianon Ballroom with Austin Wylie, and his nationally known orchestra playing. This was the outstanding social function of the year given by the Pan Hellenic Council.

RULE SUPREME . . THEIR

As the second oldest fraternity on the campus, the Sigma Beta Phi Fraternity is recognized as one of the leading groups of the University. The fraternity home on Parkwood Avenue was the scene for many rushing events and other social activities.

Among the events on the Sigmas social calendar were the Christmas formal, the pledge dance, a box-social, and the Spring formal. On February 21 the Founder's Day banquet was celebrated.

Considerable credit for the Sigma's success in this almost completed year must be given to their capable president, Jack Tallman. With such University leaders as John Wickter, president of the student council; Bob Biehl, student council representative and the University's first nine-letter athlete; James Kressler, cheerleader and student council representative; Jack Striggow, advertising manager of the Campus Collegian; and Jack Melvin, sophomore representative of the Men's Union, the Sigmas are proud to help mold University traditions, and build up the respect which is due the University. Sigma Beta Phi, with the new pledge group, hopes to travel farther down the road of success and to even greater achievements than ever before.

THESE BOYS THE TOPS

PUBLICATIONS AND PLEASURES MAKES

Sigma Delta Rho has earned a high place among the "Big Three" on the campus. During the past year the Sig Delt's were prominent in politics, publications, and social activities.

Among the Sig Delt leaders on the campus were Elgin Brooks, Junior class president; Robert Smith, Sophomore class treasurer; Carlton Frick, editor, and Charles Hanneken, business manager of the Blockhouse. Norman Jennings and Herbert Drager were also active on the Collegian and Blockhouse. The fraternity president, Ted Meier was vice-president of the University Y and member of the Arx.

The fraternity rooms in Berkeley Manor were attractively redecorated by the active chapter. Earlier in the year the alumni group did their part by refinishing the furniture.

The annual Christmas formal, held in the Maumee River Yacht Club, Christmas night; the spring formal and a host of informal dances climaxed the social activities.

Other get-togethers included the annual picnic at Devil's Lake and the Founder's Day banquet. A new idea of pot-luck dinners on meeting nights proved to be a huge success. As has been the case in past years, much of the credit for the Sig Delt's rise to greater heights belongs to their much admired adviser, Dr. J. B. Brandeberry.

"BIG THREE" · · MOST GRACIOUS

One of the outstanding affairs sponsored by this group is the annual home coming meet held during September. This three day affair includes a stag banquet, a day at a country club when all members participate in various sports, a dinner dance at the club, and an educational excursion on the third day.

In place of a Founder's Day celebration, the Phi Kaps sponsored an annual stag banquet in March when members of the fraternity from various parts of the United States attended.

Other activities given by this organization are a Mothers' Day tea, a Fathers' "Millionaires" party, and a spring and Christmas formal dinner dance.

This year a testimonial dinner was given in honor of Dr. H. H. M. Bowman who in previous years, as well as this year, was rightfully given credit for having served in the capacity of adviser of the Phi Kappa Chi fraternity. Dr. Nicholas Mogendorff and Prof. Young A. Neal were elected to honorary membership in the fraternity this year.

EVERYTHING THAT'S DONE IN A BUSY CREW IS THIS, ACTIVE IN

Alpha Phi Omega sincerely dedicates this page in Memoriam to Howard Wendel and Frank T. Sweeney. Wendel will long be remembered for his warm friendship and the fine spirit of fair play and good sportsmanship that he displayed on the University athletic field. Sweeney, despite the adversities of life that were his, met the world squarely and made a place for himself as circulation manager of the Campus Collegian. The fraternity has lost two fine scholarly students, real fraternity brothers, and most of all, two men.

This year the fraternity held many outstanding social functions for its many members and guests on the campus. The Alpha Phi's presented their annual Christmas formal dinner-dance at the New Secor Hotel. A host of other activities were given in honor of the 21 pledges in the group.

Alpha Phi Omega justifies its modest position on the campus by having such men on its roll as Willard Rex, president of the Senior Class and of the fraternity; Ernest Walker, secretary of the Junior Class and vice-president of the group; Melvin Potts, member of the Student Council; Robert Braun, intramural manager; Robert Kegg, Senior Prom committee member.

Their adviser, Arvid T. Johnson, has more than lent himself to the fraternity during the past year.

THE CAMPUS, BUT NOT BY

The purpose of the fraternity is to promote fraternal and social feelings and to support all activities and projects of the University.

The fraternity has had during its social year many informal dances, co-ed parties, and smokers. During the holidays the Fifteenth Annual Christmas Formal Dinner Dance was held. Later the Founder's Day Formal, Dad's Night, Pledge Banquet, and Spring Formal brought with them appropriate celebrations. The social season ended with a fraternity picnic held at the Irish Hills.

The fraternity is very proud of its house in Sanford Place. Many parties and other social activities are held here.

As in previous years the fraternity was well represented in major sports, with letter-men on all the varsity teams. The teams they have sponsored in intramural sports have gained many coveted prizes. They not only have the will to win, but they also have the ability. ♫

The fraternity has always sponsored good fellowship, betterment of school life, support of school projects, and clean and healthy living. It is proud of the record it has made, and will strive to maintain its standard in the future.

WELL, ANYWAY CHAMPIONS

The Kappa Iota Chi fraternity was established on the campus in 1925. Since that time the group has been actively promoting the athletic, social, and intellectual pursuits of the Jewish men at the University. During the past year, K. I. X. has been prominent in intramural athletics, and for the second successive semester they rated first, scholastically, among the other fraternities, with a point average of 1.53.

Their social calendar included two dances, one honoring the pledges, in the Chi Bet House, and the Student Union building. The rushing season was featured by a roast held late in the fall.

K. I. X. also had its share of campus leaders in extra-curricular activities. Among them were: Irving Edelstein, president of the Pan-Hellenic Council; Seymour Rothman, sports editor of the Collegian; Stanley Zimmerman, member of the Junior Prom Committee; Dave Blitz and Ben Shuer, inter-fraternity ping-pong champions, and Ben Shall, freshman basketball star. Shuer is also a varsity member of the tennis team.

Credit for a new found spirit belongs to their adviser, Dr. Lorain Fortney. Under his guidance, the fraternity has enjoyed one of the most successful years in its history.

NOT GRINDS, EXACTLY, BUT HIGH

Lambda Chi fraternity in its eleventh year of existence can hardly boast a better year than 1935-36. The fraternity was second in the scholastic ratings of the social fraternities on the campus.

In intramurals, Lambda Chi's bid for sports fame was aided by the ability of Sol Sharp and Nat Eisir. Isadore Epstein chose scholastics as his aim and was helpful in obtaining the high standard that Lambda Chi achieved and is determined to keep.

Their adviser, Doctor F. E. Nurse, was a constant aid to the group and through him they obtained valuable advice and encouragement.

Although it is a comparatively new fraternity, it is well organized and has made an enviable place for itself on the campus.

This year the fraternity sponsored several small dances and parties. Beside these some of the outstanding events were the Spring formal, the Annual Founder's Day banquet, and the fraternity picnic.

IN STANDING WHEN THE GRADES ARE TALLIED

THE POWER OF THE PRESS IS THE POWER OF CHI BETA CHI . . .

Chi Beta Chi was founded as a scholastic fraternity, but during the last few years has carried on a very versatile social program.

Edward J. Golding, president, under the guidance of Dr. Charles J. Bushnell, adviser, and Dr. George L. Leffler, honorary member, successfully conducted the fraternity through another year and maintained its high rank as a Greek letter organization.

This year the Chi Bets had two members in Student Council, Hal B. Jennings and George Schaiberger, besides having men in three class offices. The fraternity also kept control of the Campus Collegian for the third successive year, largely through the efforts of John Grigsby, editor, and Herbert Dorman, business manager. The groups' standing in interfraternity athletic competition was due chiefly to the efforts of Willard Bright, Edward Golding, George Bleckner, Jack Spooner, Hal Jennings, and Harold Vischer. Socially, the Chi Bets reached new heights, the Annual Christmas Formal Dinner Dance, held December 23, at the New Secor, being one of the outstanding social events of the year. The fraternity, closing a most successful year with the Annual Spring Formal Dinner Dance, under the chairmanship of Willard Bright, point optimistically toward the years to come.

Inter-Sorority Council was established in 1926 for the purpose of governing all sororities on the campus. It is composed of a Junior and Senior representative from each of the eight sororities on the campus. The Presidents of the sororities may attend the meetings if they desire.

Officers of the Council are elected by a system of rotation. Meetings are held once a month in order to discuss the various needs and affairs of the sororities. The organization functions especially during the rushing season when it prepares the rules and regulations by which all sororities must abide. A penalty is inflicted for any infraction of the rules.

The Annual Inter-Sorority Council Dance was given in the Woman's Building on February 14, Ted Bennett's orchestra playing.

A SMOOTH SOPHISTICATED SET, FOND OF THE SOCIAL WHIRL, YET KAPPA PI EPSILON

An attractive bridge luncheon was held in the home of Ruth Frick which brought together Alpha members of the sorority in celebration of Founder's Day. Arrangements were made by the chairman, Lucille Erickson, assisted by Gladys Berning, Marion Delcher, and Virginia Baker. In commemoration of the day, the sorority flower was worn to classes. Members of the Beta chapter observed the occasion with a luncheon at the Tallyho tea room.

After a busy summer, the members had a great deal to talk over at the fall dance held in the Trilby log cabin. Plans for the coming activities were eagerly discussed between dances.

Former acquaintances were renewed when the Alpha's entertained alumni members at a tea in the home of Helen Folger.

In an atmosphere of friendliness, the Kappas were hostesses to faculty members and members of the various sororities at the annual Thanksgiving tea, given in the home of Kathryn Gross.

The merriment of the Yuletide season was much in evidence at the Christmas formal, held in the Commodore Perry Hotel. A gaily decorated Christmas tree, coupled with soft, sweet strains of music, served as an appropriate background for this outstanding event of the year.

FOUNDED: 1918

A dance at the Student Union Building, just before school started, began the year's activities for Pi Delta Chi. Later in the fall, the Beta chapter entertained the Alpha chapter with a dinner and style show at the Collingwood Avenue Presbyterian Church. Also during the first semester of the school year, the Pi Delt's organized a Mothers' Club. They gave several rummage and cake sales.

The sorority not only held a Christmas formal at the New Secor Hotel, but climaxed the holiday season with a New Year's Day Tea Dance to which all University sorority women were invited.

A program of social work was started by the Pi Delta Chi sorority and the Sigma Beta Phi fraternity when they jointly entertained fifty children from the North Toledo Community House at a dinner party in the Sig Bet house. Moving pictures and a fish pond kept the children busy to say nothing of the eats.

Pledges of the sorority were honored at a dance, March 21, in the Maumee River Yacht Club. Boy friends were entertained by the Pi Delt's at a Leap Year Dance in the Woman's Building, April 3. Girls called for their dates, met the parents, carried combs and the like, gave the boy friend corsages to wear, and taxied the boys safely to their homes after the dance.

Founder's Day, April 26, was marked by the annual banquet with the Beta chapter.

A GROUP WELL ROUNDED,

A fall dance honoring the pledges began the years activities for the Thetas. The colors of the sorority were used for attractive decorations.

The Christmas formal at the Woman's Club was made festive by a gaily decorated Christmas tree, and soft lights and sweet music.

On December 16, the annual party with the Beta chapter was held in the Conference Room. Santa Claus was among those present and had gifts for everyone.

The Mother's Club launched its second year with a joint meeting and dinner with the members at the Belvedere. They also held a rush party for the mothers of the new pledges. The annual Mothers' Day tea and a banquet in honor of the mothers ended the year.

On November 20th the sorority celebrated its sixteenth celebration of Founder's Day. Dean Katherine Easley and Doris Fenneberg, a charter member, were guests of honor at a dinner at the University Club and members received corsages of yellow mums, the sorority flower.

Rushing, pledging, teas and informal parties were climaxed with the annual spring formal, May 23. In defiance of approaching exams, one and all donned spring formals for this favorite affair.

TOO MUCH OF ANYTHING . . NOR TOO LITTLE

EXCELLENTLY BALANCED, NOT

THEIR HOUSE HAS CHARM, BUT IT ISN'T JUST

The Psi Chi Phi calendar has been completely filled this year with interesting and diverting activities. However, the project nearest the hearts of the Psi Chi's has been the remodeling and opening of a sorority house in miniature on Densmore Drive. Members did most of the painting and scrubbing themselves in preparation for the formal opening of the house November 3.

A Kaji party in true Japanese style was held in the sorority house October 28. Some of the members dressed in kimonos and others, attempting to learn a somewhat confusing game, lent novelty and hilarity to the entertainment.

Psi Chi dances were interspersed throughout the year, but the Christmas formal with its holly wreaths and yuletide gaiety topped all such occasions.

On New Year's Day, the Psi Chi's honored all campus sororities with a tea. The gracious hostesses created an atmosphere of friendliness and charm.

Psi Chi mothers organized this year and have been almost as active as their daughters. They have given several attractive teas and parties.

The Psi Chi's look back with satisfaction upon a very successful year and look forward to a more successful one.

THAT MAKES THEM POPULAR

MUCH GIVEN TO

This past year has been one of laughter and amusement for the Alpha Taus. They have been caught in the social whirl and have greatly enjoyed the experience.

The Alpha Taus have the distinction of having the only woman engineering student in the university as one of their members.

A Halloween dance, given November 4 in the Maumee Parish house, was one of the gayest and most attractive functions of the season. Decorations expressed an elfin spirit in orange and black.

The Beta Chapter honored the actives with a Halloween party at the Doherty Club in Maumee.

Founder's Day, which is one of the most important dates of the year to a sorority, was celebrated with a banquet in the Woman's Building. A color scheme of silver and orchid was carried out, with sweet peas furnishing the floral touch.

Christmas night, the Alpha Taus danced until the wee hours of the morning in the tower room of the Hillcrest. Though heavy-eyed and weary-footed, they were pleased to say that their Christmas formal was a great success.

A scavenger hunt was given in honor of the pledges instead of the usual pledge dance. Refreshments were served at the home of Dorothy Lancashire after an evening of collecting.

The Alpha Taus have plans for interesting activities this spring in which they expect their new pledges to take an active part. Among them is the annual spring formal which is always an occasion to look forward to, and reminisce about when it is past.

Beta sorority members were guests of honor at a Bingo Party, which was the first social function of the sorority for this year. 1936 is an especially eventful year in the history of the Sigma Pi Deltas, because it marked the opening of a sorority apartment in Kenmore Manor. This gala occasion was celebrated with an open house November 10.

During the winter there was a theatre party, a charity bridge, and the annual Founder's Day banquet. On this latter day the members wore corsages of the sorority flower to classes.

Rushing parties included, besides a tea and a formal dinner, a very novel fortune telling party, at which the future was forecast in no uncanny manner.

After the fashion of good pledges, those of the Sigmas gave a tea in honor of the members, and proved that they could be excellent hostesses, as well as obedient pledges.

May 10 was the date of the Mothers' Day tea which honored the mothers of the members. Its lovely appointments will long be remembered by all those present.

Appropriately, a farewell party for the seniors, and the spring formal brought the years' activities to a close.

HOOPS, MY DEAH, AND

HOOPS ENOUGH TO WIN A CHAMPIONSHIP

To the Tau Delts go the distinction of being the sorority basketball champions for 1936. Emerging victorious from a field of much competition, the Tau Delts have every reason to be justly proud of this splendid achievement.

The social activities of the year were heralded by a back-to-school dance, held in the home of Evelyn Druckenmiller in Elmore, Ohio. A Thanksgiving dance was held in the Student Union Building, and during Christmas vacation a party and gift exchange was held in the home of Grace Marquardt. The annual Christmas formal dinner dance was December 16, in the Toledo Yacht Club, which was beautifully decorated.

Founder's Day was celebrated by the wearing of corsages by the members and a theatre party and dinner in the evening.

On Mothers' Day a lovely tea was given in honor of the mothers of the members.

Rushing activities included a tea in the home of Vivian Brint, a novel Monte Carlo party held in the Sig Bet house on Parkwood Avenue, and a formal dinner in the Woman's club. Pledging was held in the home of Florence Schnetzler. The pledges were honored by the actives with a dance.

The Zetas have had a year of fun and frolic. They opened their social season with a roast, Oct. 14, in Ottawa Park, after which members gathered around the dying embers of the fire to amuse each other with eerie ghost stories. On Nov. 4, the sorority patronesses and adviser were honored with a formal dinner in the Belvedere Apartments.

The Alpha and Beta chapters exchanged gifts at a rollicking Christmas party in the home of Mrs. Charles J. Bushnell, Dec. 16. An atmosphere of merriment and gaiety was maintained at the formal Christmas dance in the Toledo Yacht Club, Dec. 27.

Rushing this year was just as much fun for the members as it was for the rushees. This is no wonder, considering the three delightful rush parties, which included a country dance, a twilight supper, and a formal banquet at the Waldorf Hotel.

The Zetas are planning many more parties jointly with the Beta chapter during the summer months.

The purpose of the sorority is to promote social feeling and to support all activities and projects of the University.

STUDENT . . . COUNCIL . . . 1935-36

The Student Council is the governing body of the University. Working this year to raise the status of the Student Council and to improve the general attitude on the campus, the council had a varied and successful year. The group looks back on Freshman Week with its attendant instructions that helped to start the newcomer out right on the road to learning. The regular Student Council dances were topped off by a lovely Christmas formal at the Trianon Ballroom. High School Week which promises to be a growing thing as the years go forward was planned with the cooperation of the council. The building up of the library in the Student Union building can also be attributed to the council. Various other activities, including the welcoming of the new coach, helped climax a very successful year.

Realizing the necessity of getting at some of the deeper things which make for real campus life, the council delved into some of the inner problems of the University after doing its best with lounges and other minor details. It conducted a survey on activities points in the hope that a uniform system of awards might be established at the University. They worked with sub-committees on budgets so that the extra curricular activities would not defeat their own purpose. Council also conducted an investigation of its powers and duties with the view of obtaining a more definite placement of responsibility in the future. It conferred with other schools to draw up a comparison of the governing bodies. Two delegates were sent to the National Student Federation conference. The bus rate committee followed up the work of the previous years and succeeded in continuing the special rate for students.

The foresight of the governing body gave birth to the making of a scrap book for all the activities of the council. The council members were in constant touch with the student body through the Collegian.

Serious penalties were inflicted for smoking in the corridors and other misdemeanors in the University. Mass meetings and bon fires were sponsored to increase student enthusiasm before football games. In all ways, the council attempted to cooperate with the student body.

CHIPS FROM THE OLD BLOCK

For more than ten years the Blockhouse has brought to the student body a pictorial presentation of each year's activities. Each edition of the annual has been an album of reminiscence; a treasure store of life's most valued memories. The staff members expect no reward for their efforts other than the kindly thought that their work has not gone for naught, but will keep alive the cherished thoughts of those who have attended the University.

This year the members of the staff worked against many obstacles in a sincere effort to bring a superior book to the students. Carlton W. Frick, editor-in-chief and Charles E. Hanneken, business manager, directed the policies of the yearbook with the able help of Herbert Drager, assistant editor and former head of the campus division.

Again this year, Prof. Ivan F. Zarobsky was instrumental in leading the staff through their many difficulties. The inevitable reverses that came to the staff and the ultimate successes were shared unflinchingly by their adviser, the "Czar."

Last year's Blockhouse received a second class honor rating in the Fifteenth Annual Critical Service conducted by the National Scholastic Press Association held at the University of Minnesota, in November, 1935.

The newest addition to the long list of outstanding University annuals, published in the past, presents a decided departure from the conventional style found in other books. The ideas presented are in a more modern vein; a view section has been introduced for the first time, the opening sections are more elaborate and, last but far from least, the cover and new large size lend added distinction to the book.

The long hours of work put into the making of the annual have not been in vain.

HOLE . . . EYES TO THE HEIGHTS UNSCALED . . .

Under the leadership of John N. Grigsby, editor-in-chief, Nita Gavaris, managing editor, and Herbert Dorman, business manager, the Campus Collegian continued to give the student body an accurate account of campus news in its editions distributed in the mail-boxes each Friday morning.

Despite the decided handicap of a reduced budget, twenty-eight issues were published during the year. A special six-page issue was printed for the visitors attending the annual High School Day.

In an effort to maintain the title of "Ohio's Best College Weekly Newspaper", awarded for the third time in five years last spring, the newspaper's management cashed in on the variety of talents displayed by members of the editorial staff. William Rosenberg, associate editor, served in his capacity by writing most of the headlines for the paper. Seymour Rothman, sports editor, provided humor with his numerous feature stories.

Mary Philipps, news editor for the first semester, resigned her position under pressure of scholastic work, and her position was capably filled by Louise Retzke. Others who contributed to the success of the Collegian were Rex Bremer, Ethel Dull, Harriet Chapman, Margery Devlin, Marjorie Ebert, Carlton Zucker, Eugene Wasserman, Betty Marsh, Betty Heyn, and Ted Ulmer.

The Collegian pursued the policy of printing almost exclusively news from the University of Toledo campus.

DRAMATIC ASSOCIATION

The Dramatic Association, an organization under the direction of L. D. Barnhart, has as its purpose the study and production of amateur student theatricals. This year the group presented "Young Woodley," "Arms and the Man" by George Bernard Shaw, and "Bird in Hand" by John Drinkwater in the Henry J. Doerman Theatre. The casts for the plays were chosen at scheduled tryouts under the direction of Mr. Barnhart and Jessie Dowd Stafford, the faculty adviser. Any full-time student was eligible to try out for a part in the offering or in the production staff, even though he may not be a member of the organization.

Membership in the dramatic group can be gained by active participation in at least one play through one or more of the departments. Application for enrollment in the Dramatic Association is made to Mary Helen Palmer, secretary-treasurer of the organization, stating in which department the applicant is most interested and listing any previous experience.

Acting, production and business groups form the three major departments with the Dramatic Association. The acting department of course, provides the actors, ham and otherwise. Annabelle Dusing, vice-president, has charge of the production department, which consists of stage managing, sets, costumes, properties and a variety of other details which enter into the actual production of the play. The business department, headed by the treasurer, supervises ticket sales, publicity and numerous other details.

CAST FOR
"ARMS AND THE MAN"

Irving Gould, Mrs. Charlotte Barber, Max

ing, Margaret Huntley, Jack Merrill and Robert Fox.

"YOUNG WOODLEY"—The emotional conflict of a young prefect in a boy's preparatory school in England, who fell in love with the young and attractive wife of his schoolmaster, was the well portrayed story of "Young Woodley."

The story deals with the talk and thought which prevails in a boy's school and the problems confronting the young boy in his impressionable and character-forming years.

"ARMS AND THE MAN"—A satirical comedy of love and war, by George Bernard Shaw, was the second offering of the University Dramatic Association.

In this travesty, Shaw shows his contempt for hero-worship in his character, Bluntschli, portrayed by Irving Gould. The alert audience, however, met a surprise when Sergius, a young Bulgarian officer, played by Max Bishop, turned out to be a hero.

Every woman who is a full-time student at the University is automatically a member of the Women's Association. This year, one of the many projects of the association was the furnishing of the Women's Lounge in the Student Union building.

The annual tea honoring freshmen was given early in the year. This affair helped to acquaint the new women with the other members, and to make them feel that they were welcome. Besides the tea, the Women's Association sponsored a breakfast party for senior women during Senior Week. This was something quite new in farewell parties, and so successful that it may become an annual event instead of the traditional affair.

Electing the new May Queen was an exciting occasion. Its impressiveness was preceded only by the crowning of the chosen Queen. Representatives of all the sororities on the campus were included in the group of attendants and made up a colorful court. The new Queen was crowned by the retiring Queen. The new May Queen automatically becomes president of the Women's Association and the organization operates under committees appointed by her.

DEBATING . . . ASSOCIATION

The Debating Association is one of the most active and successful inter-collegiate organizations on the campus. The varsity debating team has been Ohio Conference champions consecutively for the last four years. The debates themselves have been ones which are interesting due to timely subject matter and skillful debating technique. Such topics as,

Resolved: That Congress by a two-thirds majority vote shall have the power to override a decision of the Supreme Court declaring an act of Congress unconstitutional, and other topics concerning munitions and public utilities were of such a timely nature a group of debators were asked to appear before professional men and women organizations in this city. The Manchester Squad, a group composed of both Ohio Conference men and others skilled in the art of debate, attend a tournament each year at North Manchester, Indiana, where debates are held with many other schools, such as Notre Dame, Purdue, and Indiana. The University was quite successful this year in these contests, the group attending from the University winning a majority of the debates. New contacts for some, and old opponents for others made the contest a jolly affair.

Participation in debates is open to both men and women students. Tryouts are announced in the fall on the bulletin boards and in the Collegian. The debate room is 216 and interested students should report there or to Dr. Orians, adviser.

Members of the debating association participated in more than eighty intercollegiate contests this year including four tournaments. The Ohio Conference season included dual debates with Kent State University, Wittenburg University and Otterbein College. All Ohio Conference debates were non-decision. University of Toledo debaters won seven of their ten debates at the annual Manchester tournament held at Manchester College, Manchester, Indiana, and took first place at the annual novice tournament at Hiram College, Hiram, Ohio.

A team of Edwin Klag and Ted Ulmer and another composed of Max Bishop and George Lynn won first place at the combined Northeast Conference and Pi Kappa Delta province tournament for the best two team record, winning ten of their fourteen debates. The season closed with the eleventh bi-annual Pi Kappa Delta tournament, held at Houston, Texas. One hundred and fifty schools were represented at the national tournament. The University ranked in the upper fifteen per cent by winning four of their six debates. Edwin Klag, Ted Ulmer, George Lynn, and Max Bishop represented the University.

The Band gave its first performance at the Blade's annual football clinic. The group also played for all of the football games at Swayne Field. The high-light of the football season was a trip to Cleveland with the team. The Heidelberg band was the only aggregation for whom the U. of T. organization was host.

SOMETHING TO BLOW ABOUT . . .

John Kappel, dressed as an Indian, twirled a lighted baton at the Haskell-Indian game. Larry Loftus, diminutive drum major, twirled two batons this year in imitation of Kappel. The lights that the band wore during the later football games were gifts of the Phi Kappa Chi fraternity.

The band also did its part and gave a University "levy" parade, in November.

During the basketball season, the band played for the major games with Harvard, Michigan, Heidelberg, and Cincinnati. They also traveled with the team to Bowling Green, and played host to the Bee Gee band at a later date.

The activities for the year were concluded with an exhibition on High School Day.

Good music is an asset to a University and we were fortunate in having a fine orchestra directed by Miss Charlotte Ruegger this year. Miss Ruegger used her own extensive musical training to bring out the best musicianship in the orchestra members.

The orchestra played twice over WSPD for the University of Toledo programs. The music played between acts for the dramatic production, "The Arms and the Man", cannot be forgotten. The orchestra also helped to make some of the Convocation periods more interesting.

The purchasing of many new sheets of music, this semester, shows that the orchestra had to fill many an hour with hard practice.

During the last few months of school, the orchestra practiced with the Glee Club for the production, "Pirates of Penzance." Many evening rehearsals were required, but the members of the orchestra were very faithful in regard to them.

Several members of the orchestra played an important part in the May Day activities. They very capably furnished much of the music for the dances, this, too, requiring much practice. The new music purchased was used for this occasion. The orchestra is doing its part to further the cause of good music in the University by its participation in various school affairs. And good music can come only from good musicians.

FIDDLING WHILE THE AUDIENCE BURNS . . .

The officers of the club were: Ruth Cordell, president, Pauline Meckley, secretary, Florence Shepard and Lillian Miller, librarians, Lawrence Rothert, and Walter Rickard, property managers, and Julia Metz, publicity manager.

THESE YODELLERS

The University Chorus was responsible for many interesting musical programs this year. Besides their WSPD radio program on Easter Night, the Chorus together with the University Dramatic Association, presented the Gilbert and Sullivan light opera, "Pirates of Penzance," on March 7 and 8. Other entertainments during the Monday morning convocation hour and programs for school organizations were given from time to time.

Jack Merrill and Betty Fall were soloists on the Easter Sunday program. Leading roles in the opera were taken by J. Norman Staiger, Mr. Merrill, Robert Shawaker, Robert Perry, June Spaur, Jeannette Gris-singer, Lois Hotz, Helen Cosgray and Roger White.

OFFICERS

Officers of the Chorus are Mr. Shawaker, president; Miss Hotz, vice-president; Helen Folger, secretary; Robert Nooney, business manager; Mr. Perry, librarian and Rae Wilbur, publicity.

Nooney, Wilbur, Perry, Hotz,

GETTING THE PITCH

J. Harold Harder is chorus director and Professor George F. Evans is the adviser.

Meetings are held each Monday and Wednesday afternoon in the Henry J. Doermann Theater.

MEMBERS

Membership in the Arx, men's honorary organization, is limited to thirteen men in the senior college. Its purpose is to give special recognition to those junior and senior men who have been outstanding scholastically and in other activities during their college careers.

To be eligible for membership a 1.5 grade average and participation in at least two extra-curricular activities connected with the University is required.

Its second aim is to provide cooperation and to encourage constructive projects for the betterment of the University.

Informal social gatherings are held by this group every other Sunday when they discuss local affairs and University projects.

The group is headed by Robert Biehl, president, and John Rapparlée, secretary-treasurer. Assistant professor Edward C. Ames is the adviser.

PEPPERS

Only representative women, the leaders on the campus who are prominent both in activities and scholastically are given bids to the Peppers, women's honorary organization. A 1.5 grade average and participation in at least two extra curricular activities are necessary for eligibility to membership.

The purpose of the organization is to foster high scholastic standing and participation in activities among the women of the University. Meetings are held once every month in the homes of the members. The programs of these meetings are usually social. The outstanding events of the year included a Christmas party and a tea for alumni members.

Nita Gavaris, president, Betty Jane Fowler, secretary, and Helen Conn, treasurer, are the officers of the honorary group. Dean Katherine Easley is the adviser.

Approximately twenty-five persons at the University are affiliated with the Eta Chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalistic fraternity. The purpose of this co-educational organization is to recognize individual ability and achievement in journalistic pursuits in colleges and universities. The membership of the group is open only to outstanding journalism students, who have served at least one year on the editorial staffs of either the Campus Collegian, weekly student publication at the University, or the Blockhouse.

The insignia of the fraternity is a badge key, rectangular in shape, with three Greek letters—Alpha, Phi, Gamma—running diagonally from top to bottom. There are three stars in the upper right-hand corner and an ink bottle in the lower left corner.

Appropriately chosen, black and white are the group colors. The national publication is entitled "The Black and White."

Alpha Phi Gamma was founded at Ohio Northern University on December 11, 1919. In 1923 the organization became national. At present, there are about twenty chapters throughout the country.

Among the interesting events sponsored by the local group is the awarding of the Toledo Blade trophy to the best judged high school newspaper, on High School Day at the University. March 6, was the High School Day this year. Thousands of the seniors from Toledo and vicinity attended the University's open-house.

Regular monthly meetings are held in the homes of members or in the Student Union Building. Prominent newspapermen and women in the city speak at the various meetings. One evening is set aside annually for high school journalists to attend.

The Kappa Psi fraternity at the University is the Beta Lambda chapter of an international pharmaceutical fraternity, which is strictly limited to recognized schools of pharmacy. The chapter is one of the fifty-one collegiate chapters in North America and is governed by a grand council.

The group purpose is to conduct a mutual fraternal organization, to unite in fellowship persons of good character and sound mental health, to further the advantages of its members intellectually, morally and socially, to create a feeling of responsibility of the potential pharmacists to the public and to the medical profession and to foster pharmaceutical research and high scholarship.

At the beginning of the year the group visited the Eli Lilly laboratory in Indianapolis. Later the annual trip was made to the Parke-Davis laboratory in Detroit. On these occasions lectures related to the subject were given.

Talks and papers on pharmaceutical subjects were presented at various times during the year by members of the organization.

The Beta Lambda chapter was installed at the University in 1925. The members now have a fraternity house on Fernwood Avenue.

A national publication entitled "The Mask" is printed every year. Contributions from all the Kappa Psi chapters are included and it is quite a complete and interesting pharmaceutical review of the year.

PI KAPPA DELTA

Pi Kappa Delta is a national honorary forensic fraternity with the purpose of furthering better debating technique among the members. A convention is held annually at which time debating and oratorical contests are carried on. These conventions are held in different localities, the one this year being held at Dallas, Texas.

Membership in this organization is limited to those who comply with the national rules with regard to the number of debates participated in and the time spent in actual participation other than debate. The organization at the University is an active one socially and has held social functions in the homes of its members and also at various clubs in the city.

The annual initiation each year is an event of importance to both old members and initiates. The initiation held last year at Hiedelberg was an impressive ceremony. Members must continue their participation actively once they are admitted to this fraternity until they leave school.

The present officers include: Edwin Klag, president; Philip Pacyna, vice-president; Miss Aubry Mather, secretary; Ted Ulmer, treasurer.

Pi Mu Epsilon is an honorary academic fraternity whose purpose is the promotion of mathematical scholarship among the students in institutions of university grade. It aims to do this by electing members on a merit basis according to their scholastic attainments, especially in mathematics, and by engaging in activities designed to promote the scholarly development of its members.

A selected group of members of Delta X petitioned last fall for a chapter of Pi Mu Epsilon at the University of Toledo. By a vote of the forty existing chapters of the fraternity the petition was granted, and the local chapter—Gamma of Ohio—was formally installed February 7th, 1936, Professor J. H. Weaver of Ohio State University officiating.

At this meeting the following officers of the chapter were elected: Prof. Wayne Dancer, Director; Robert Stollberg, Vice-Director or President; Blanche Fishler, Secretary, and Kevin Whelan, Treasurer.

Condryn are the advisers of the group, which sponsors many lectures by noted physicians and speakers. This year the speakers included Dr. Paul Gintzel, Dr. Arthur P. James, Dr. Lewis Smead, Dr. M. B. Jacobson, Dr. Robert Meffley and Miss Frances Upham. At various other meetings, picture films were shown which were secured through pharmaceutical companies and were on subjects directly related to the pre-medics.

The annual Christmas party was held during the holiday season in the Chi Beta Chi-Alpha Phi Omega fraternity house on Franklin Avenue. This year, the group concludes its fourth year of existence. The purpose of the fraternity is to promote brotherhood, honor and scholarship among its affiliates.

The Ellen Richards Club is for students in the Home Economics Department and others interested in the subject. Two meetings are held each month; one, a business meeting, and the other a dinner meeting.

The club has completed an active social calendar. Not only were the traditional goblins entertained at a Halloween party, but the first snow fall was celebrated with an old-fashioned sleigh ride. Songs were sung and a good time was had by all. Then there was the novel White Elephant Bridge which attracted many persons and proved to be most entertaining.

At Christmas time the club made and sold fruit cakes as usual. Candy and popcorn were sold at intervals during the rest of the year.

The club again had as their guest the Home Economic Regional Convention of Northwestern Ohio, March 14, 1936. This meeting preceeded the State Convention. Delegates from all high schools and colleges in the district were present. Dr. Carter welcomed the group and gave the opening address. Included on the program was a talk by Miss Edna B. Rowe on "Child Development". A musical program was provided by Miss Charlotte Ruegger. After lunch the visitors were taken on a tour through the University and the Museum of Art. The days program was concluded with a tea.

Future grade school teachers, belonging to the Elementary Education Association, gave many social functions this year. A roast at Side Cut Park, honoring new members, started the school year out right.

For Halloween a ghost party was given by the members. Even goblins and witches would have been scared, if they had been invited to the party. The advisers of the club were garbed in the weirdest of ghost costumes.

Besides giving a Christmas party during the holidays, the club gave some Christmas cheer, in the form of Christmas carols. Sunset Home, Toledo Hospital, and University Halls were serenaded. Dean and Mrs. Henry opened their home for the remainder of the evening to give the tired singers some nourishment.

Not to be outdone by Dean and Mrs. Henry, Dr. Weekes loaned her apartment, one afternoon, to the club. A lovely tea with a program was the result.

Although only social functions have been mentioned, the Elementary Education Association is really a club for future professional women. Regular business meetings are held where the future school teachers discuss the child problems of the day.

A reorganization was made in January. Seventy members of the male student body joined the group. A cabinet composed of three seniors, three juniors, four sophomores, four freshmen, and the officers was selected to direct the year's activities.

The aim of the University Y is to promote various activities of the student body with respect to the continuance of ideals that are ethical and Christian in scope. It's purpose has been to seek out, train and maintain the leaderships which will project and sustain these ideals.

The activities of this year included a talk by the noted educator, Dr. Sherwood Eddy before the student body on the subject of "The Three Dictators"; a series of pot-luck dinners on the second and fourth Mondays of each month at the new Y.M.C.A.; Dr. Samuel Franklin and Reverend Henry McKensie have spoken at these meetings. In addition, open forum discussions have been held on various topics. Groups went to hear Dr. Toyohiko Kagawa at Ann Arbor. Attendance at this year's spring training conference at Bowling Green, a picnic, and another prominent speaker concluded the year's program.

The pre-requisites for active membership in Delta X are full-time registration and enrollment in or completion of a course in calculus. Besides the regular members there are several non-University students who are associate members.

Proving that a mathematical mind does not always run to figures, a Hard Times party was held at Close Park in November. Nelson Farley also gave a talk on "Mathematics in Gunnery" at this party.

A Christmas party meeting with the distribution of gifts put a holiday atmosphere in the mathematical minds of the members. At this party Norman Johnson spoke on "Secondary Preparation for College Mathematics."

The members of the group present interesting lectures and discussions at each meeting. It is seldom necessary for them to go outside their own group for speakers. Meetings are held once a month and talks form a main part of the program. All games and entertainment are of a mathematical nature.

Among the talks presented were "Trisection of An Angle" by Clifford Siemens; "Duplication of the Cube" by Aubrey Mather; "Properties of the Cube" by Maurice Kiser; and "Some Uses of Math in Astronomy."

The June meeting was the annual picnic and ended the years activities.

The Engineering Society was organized for the purpose of developing a closer bond of friendship among engineers and to increase the interest in engineering enterprises through the presentation of technical talks by members.

The bi-monthly meetings provide an opportunity for junior and senior engineers to discuss pertinent problems and developments in their field. Slides and motion pictures comprised several programs. Instead of holding one of its regular meetings in the engineer's lounge, room 208, the society went through the Ford Museum at Dearborn.

The most important event of the year occurred March 27, when the U.T.E.S. became affiliated with the Engineering Honor Society, Sigma Rho Tau. The purpose of Sigma Rho Tau is to insure a better understanding between engineers and the public through the development of speech activities in the engineering colleges. The chapter of Sigma Rho Tau in the University of Toledo, was installed by Professor Menefee, of the University of Michigan and National President of Sigma Rho Tau.

Any member of the engineering college is eligible for some rank of membership in Sigma Rho Tau.

A babble of Spanish with, of course, lapses into the English language is characteristic of a Spanish club meeting. The organization well accomplishes its purpose which is to promote interest in the language and activities of Spanish speaking people.

At each of the meetings an interesting speaker is invited who carries on his discussions entirely in the Spanish language. They meet the first Sunday of every month in a member's home. The business meeting is also carried on in Spanish.

We wonder what bridge is like played in Spanish. The club gave a bridge party in March, but we doubt whether Spanish was the only language spoken. A Christmas party was held for members of the El Centro Espanol and their guests at the Ottawa Shelter house. Activities were concluded for this group in May with the annual spring banquet.

MAY WE BE FRENCH? MAIS OUIS?

"Comment allez-vous? Je vais tres bien, merci. Et vous?"—It's a meeting of Le Cenacle Francais, trying to accomplish its purpose of increasing the students' interest in the French language, life, customs, traditions and history.

"Avez-vous plaisir?" Certainly, all the members do. The principal social event of the year was the formal Christmas dinner held December 27 in the Toledo Woman's club. Unique menus written entirely in French were placed on the beautifully decorated tables for members. A tea for the University faculty was given by the organization at which Dr. M. Estelle Hamilton, the group's adviser and Mrs. Frank E. Nurse poured.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

A PAL IN EVERY PORT

The International Relations Club meets several times each month to discuss developments of a political or economic nature that affect the relationship of the countries of the world. The League of Nations is always one of the chief centers of interest, while during the past year Abyssinia, the Mediterranean, the Rhineland, Outer Mongolia have furnished subject matter for heated debate. The Faculty and the Carnegie Peace Foundation have been generous in giving us speakers and literature on the causes of conflict in these countries.

Jim Nicholson took over his athletic duties at the University six years ago. Since taking over the responsibilities of coaching, Rocket football teams now conquer formidable opponents of other years. Nicholson coached teams have been so successful that they are outgrowing the Ohio Conference and seeking games with opponents in other sections of the country.

Due to Jim's hard work and persistence the Rockets this year became known as the strongest and best team to ever represent the University on the gridiron.

A PUNT, A PASS, A PRAYER . . .

Toledo fans had almost surrendered hope for the Rocket's ability to get anywhere during the season after the T.U. gridders had religiously avoided the goal line in losing their first two games to Capital and Boston by 6-0 scores and playing the Haskell Indians to a scoreless tie.

In the opener the Rockets, heavy favorites to win, pushed their Columbus opponents all over the field but lost the game when a Capital player picked a fumble out of the air and went over for the only score. Another fluke touchdown, this time a blocked pass that fell into the arms of a Boston player, spelled defeat for Toledo in the second game.

It was the Case game that found the Rockets changing from a weak offensive team to a high-scoring machine. An alert Rocket eleven capitalized on fumbles and blunders of the highly-touted Rough Riders to score an 18-7 upset for its first victory.

From then on, the Rockets took advantage of their newly-discovered scoring power to come through with easy victories over the teams remaining on the schedule. Touchdowns in the first and last quarters gave Toledo its second conference win, defeating Denison's Big Red Team here by a 13-0 score. The Rocket offense reached its highest point of the season against their old rivals, Bowling Green, when they smothered the Falcons in an avalanche of ten touchdowns to score a 63-0 victory.

Toledo took time off from the Ohio conference race long enough to travel to Kentucky to hand Louisville a 41-7 beating. Returning to Toledo, the Rockets played un hospitable hosts to Buffalo, defeating the Bulldogs 19-6 in avenging a 1934 defeat.

Toledo's fourth conference game found Heidelberg the victim, the Rockets closing their season with a 13-0 victory.

Despite the slow start, the Rockets ran up a total of 195 points during the season, as compared with the 32 scored by their opponents.

FOOTBALL

BIEHL

Bob is a player who puts his heart and soul into a game. Although his best season was during his sophomore year, Bob has done very good at tackle during his other two years.

HATFIELD

"Keno," despite his shortness of stature, made a very favorable impression on the coaches this year. He was depended upon to fill one of the guard positions, and he did it creditably.

HENNESSY

Blessed with a six foot four stature, Chad played a fine game at tackle this year, especially considering his inexperience. Hennessy is a potential great.

DAY

"Jim," playing an end position, distinguished himself in all games in which he took part. He displayed a smashing, dashing type of end-play.

SOUTHARD

Ed, although only a substitute end, displayed a splendid pass-receiving ability in the games in which he took part.

BROWN

Howard is as tough as you will find any end in the conference. Playing his first year, he was honored by being selected on many sport writers' all conference teams.

DAVIS

Dixie was responsible in large part for the fine defensive record of this year's team. Davis received mention on several honorary teams in tribute to his fine performances.

PALM

The local sports writers have described "Red" as the best guard in the history of the University. He was unanimously chosen for the all-conference team for his fine playing.

KONTAK

Emil played a nice game at filling up any hole in the Rocket line. Next year we hope to see him as a regular half-back or lineman.

SLOVAK

Marty Slovak was one of the best of the defensive players. Although small he made up for this in fighting spirit.

SMITH

The strategy of the team was intrusted in the capable hands of Bill Smith. He proved talented in the ability to call the right plays at the right time.

ROTHLISBERGER

Ollie played consistently well at blocking half-back. Ollie is a man who adds power to football drives that result in forward movements down the field.

WICKTER

Johnnie Wickter, who led the scoring, was the constant threat of the Rockets. His speed helped him in getting off some remarkable runs.

SPOONER

Playing his first year on the Rockets, Jack was a fixture at the center post and seems to have the inside track on it for next year.

WELLING

Fearred by every opponent of the University of Toledo was its captain, Jerry Welling. Not only did Jerry consistently gain ground but inspired his teammates on to greater efforts by his enthusiasm and fighting spirit.

MORRETTE

Al Morrette's accurate forward passing and flashy open field running made him a valuable player. This was Al's first year of varsity competition, and he did exceptionally well.

DISALLE

Louie, midget quarter-back, was the spark plug of the Rocket attack. His command of the team in the Case game was the principal reason for the glorious victory.

GAST

Les Gast on his first year on the varsity distinguished himself. His fine work stamps him as the most promising back for 1936.

This season's freshman football squad, coached by Harold Anderson, evidenced an increase in material and power in the '36 varsity line.

Of the seven backfield men in uniform, at least four show promises of first string calibre. Not varying from the records of previous years, a sparsity of material responded to the call for frosh practice, although employment and afternoon classes kept many outstanding men off the practice field. The line, which averaged about 180 pounds from end to end, varied from 213 pounds carried by Ed Hackley, tackle, to 164 by Willard Swihart at end.

Bob McCloud, guard, and Ralph Weisenberg, tackle, chosen on the all-city high school team were outstanding in their respective positions. Al Alvarez and Collins showed well at end positions. Remaining line material included Bob Everett, Dorman Dickerson, E. Pierce, Blair Foster, at tackle positions. Guards were George Buehler, Wallace Duncan, Bill Conrad and Bill Fulghum.

A pony backfield, averaging between 165 and 170 pounds had as its heaviest plunger, 220 pound Eldo Bergman, revamped linesman, at fullback. Finish Brown, quarterback, weighing 155 pounds was the team's lightest man. Jim Boyd, Joe Lasonsky and Bob Dorrell should occupy berths as halfbacks on next years varsity football team.

ROCKET FIVE HOOPS IT UP

The 1935-36 basketball season was one of the most successful in the history of University athletics. The Rockets finished in third place in Ohio Conference competition with 12 wins and 4 losses for the season's total.

During the campaign, the Rockets came out well against several nationally famous teams, with victories being recorded over Harvard, Akron and Cincinnati. The Blue and Gold's only loss in a home game came at the hands of Michigan, another big-time cage outfit. After a terrific struggle, the game, which was by far the most exciting contest seen in these parts for a long time, went to the Wolverines by a one-point margin.

The upset of the season came when the Bowling Green, on their home floor, handed the highly touted Rocket team a decisive beating. Revenge came at the close of the season, however, when the local outfit, in a home game, did an about face and smothered the Bee Gee five in an avalanche of points.

Les Gast, Dale Crow, and Dave Mostov had a three-cornered fight for one forward position, while Charlie Cupp held down the other forward. Bob Biehl was the regular center with Lloyd Holloway as his understudy. Johnnie Rapparlle was a mainstay at one guard with Earl Kaiser and Max Reddish alternating at the other spot. Dave Mostov, Bob Biehl, Johnnie Rapparlle, and Earl Kaiser, who have all played three years on the varsity, will be lost at the end of the year.

Next year's cagers promise to be equally as good as the retiring squad. Up from the freshmen ranks will be Chuck Chuckovits, who distinguished himself on the federation courts this year. Willard Swihart will also be available for next year's outfit.

Coach Harold Anderson has produced teams that have been recognized as outstanding not only in the Ohio Conference but also among the outstanding teams competing in inter-collegiate basketball.

FOR VICTORY

GAST

Les drew praise as a good shot and all-around player.

MOSTOV

A veteran performer of three years was Davie. He again proved fast and deceptive in this season's campaign.

CROW

On his first year on the team Crow became a star. His speed in getting around the floor aided the Rockets in many games.

KAISER

Earl was a steady performer who showed well in every game. His loss will be the school's loss.

COACH ANDERSON

Anderson built up a team that was rated highly in intercollegiate basketball.

BIEHL

A man who developed into a real basketball star was Bob Biehl. This was Biehl's final year on the varsity.

REDDISH

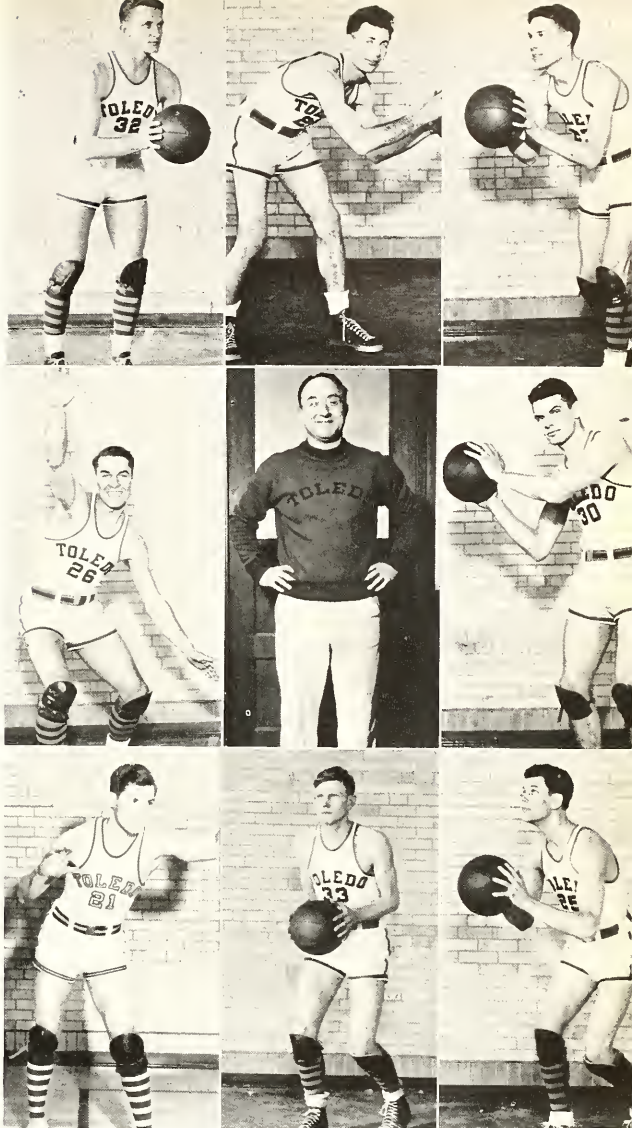

His fine work in the Michigan game stamped Max as promising. He will be back next year to add strength to the team.

RAPPARLIE

Johnnie Rapparlle, honorary captain, became recognized as one of the greatest defensive basketball players in the history of the cage sport at the University.

CUPP

Cupp was leading scorer for the Rockets. His flashy floor game and fine defensive play stood out in every game.

BATS, AND BALLS, BUNGLES · · ROUGH STUFF

The University of Toledo baseball team for this season developed into one of the best nines in the Ohio Conference.

The infield of the Rocket baseball team was its most formidable spot. Charlie Cupp at the initial sack was a flashy defensive player as well as a heavy hitter. Bill Sprunk at second base played his third year on the Rocket varsity. His work was a steadying influence on the rest of the squad. Howard Hayes, a player who distinguished himself in last year's campaign, held down the shortstop position. Bill Dierks and Ed Southard, who alternated at third base, completed the set-up for the "inner works".

Maurice Connell, a top-notch hitter last year was out to better that fine batting average. He covered one of the outfield positions. Ernie Rehm and other outfielders all counted for exceptionally good work. Johnnie Rapparlle when not pitching played the outfield. The pitching staff of the Blue and Gold squad was made up of Howard Camp, Johnnie Rapparlle, Basil Root, Adrian Kidney, and Bill Kapella. Johnnie was a veteran of the hurling staff, this being his third season. His consistently good pitching won many games. Howard Camp is a star of City Federation baseball who added strength to the mound corp.

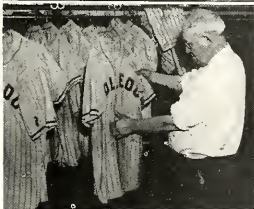

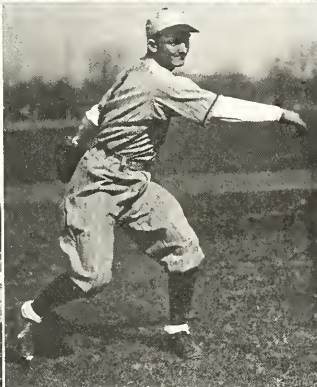

Coach Dave Connelly had three capable performers at the backstop position, Cliff Siemens and Willard Beebe, who saw action last year, and Bill Mattison.

WARRIORS TO VICTORY

Bob Biehl

Bob Bowers

The University of Toledo was well represented in track by a fine array of performers in almost every event. The squad of 1936 easily developed into one of the best this college has ever had.

Coach Harold Anderson had at the beginning of the indoor track season, as a nucleus for the team, several men who were experienced in intercollegiate competition. The other members of the team proved capable as a result of experience in scholastic athletics.

The weight men for the track team were the husky football players, Bob Biehl and Jim Day. Biehl earned his ninth letter at the University, having won awards in football, basketball, and track for three successive years.

Running the hurdles for the University were Johnnie Wickter and Fred Reiman. Reiman, experienced hurdler of two years varsity competition, returned to the squad after being away from school for two years. He demonstrated in early meets that he had not lost any of his former skill. Wickter, who was unable to run last year because of an injury, made a great come-back this season.

Fred Deshetler, high scorer of last year's track team, led the distance men. He and Bill Hullenkramer ran the mile and two mile distances. Entered in the half mile and mile runs were Frank Hudick, Willard Bright and Merton Lilly.

Earl Kaiser, George Bleckner, Max Reddish, Frank Hudick, and Willard Bright ran the 440-yard run. All were experienced performers. Al Girard and Dale Crow, together with some of the men who ran the 440 made up the relay team.

Bill Gilfillen and Bob Bowers worked as high jumpers. They faced the difficult task of attempting to out-do last year's outstanding performers in this event, Hauck and Len Jacobs. The work of Bowers and Gilfillen improved as the track season progressed. Gilfillen competed in the broad jump and javelin as well as in the high jump.

Dash men of the squad were Johnnie Wickter and George Bleckner. Wickter is in his last year of competition, while Bleckner will be back next year.

Bob Long, captain of the track team, did more than his part in point-getting in the pole vault.

GOLF A WAR IN THE GREEN

Under the guidance of Edward Klag, golf at the University of Toledo is gradually becoming an outstanding minor sport. Golf is truly a student project, scheduling, green arrangements, and preparation for matches being under the jurisdiction of members of the team.

This year the golfers participated in fourteen dual matches, as well as in the Ohio Intercollegiate tournament at Granville. The penalty placed on the University by the Ohio Conference for violation of the football practice ruling prevented the golf team from participating in the regular league matches.

Three lettermen, Captain Robert Braun, Al Bagadonas, and Klag returned for competition this year, with Howard Camp and Fred Wachter coming up from the sophomore class to fill vacancies. Klag will be the only member to be lost to the team in 1937.

Opponents faced by the Toledoans in 1936 included Western Reserve, St. Johns, Wayne, Bowling Green, Michigan Normal, Findlay and the University of Detroit. Local golf clubs generously contributed the use of their greens for home games.

The proximity of the beautiful municipal course at Ottawa Park and the work of the golf team in promoting the sport here has made golfing a favorite spring diversion for University of Toledo Students.

Klag, Harris, Richardson, Braun

Allen, Ballert, Lilly, Bright, Hullenkramer, DeShetler

After a mediocre season last year, having won only two meets and losing an equal number, the University of Toledo cross country team redeemed themselves during the past 1935-36 season. The team came through with a creditable season, five wins and two defeats. They met difficult competition in the Oberlin Conference meet this year but came home with fourth place honors tucked under their belts. Captain Fred DeShetler acted as manager and led the team in points.

The thin-clads showed real strength when they scored two victories each over Adrian, Denison and a single win over Wayne. The Detroit team eked out a win over the Rocket team on a return meet. A trip to Harvard for a match spelled another defeat for the harriers, but they made an impressive showing against the championship eastern school.

Bright prospects are in store for next year with DeShetler, Lilly and Bright returning to the fold. Newcomers to the squad will undoubtedly be Bob Troup, John Thorpe, Art Cross and John Hartman. Hullenkramer and Allen will be lost through graduation. The '36 thin-clads will be a Sophomore squad.

Much of the credit for the fine condition that the team was in during the past season was due to the expert efforts of Art Morse, who was trainer for the Rocket harriers.

THE GAME'S THE THING...

The Intramural Department again carried on an exceptionally fine program for the 1935-1936 school year.

The annual cross-country run was the first event on the program. John Thorpe, freshman, won it in good time, out-distancing Fred DeShetler, Phi Kap varsity star. Sigma Beta Phi won the team title.

Dave Abel, besting by 20 feet the last year record of 163 feet made by Harry McMahon, became the new football-punt individual champion. This event, the team title being won by Phi Kappa Chi, is gaining more interest each year.

Quickly following these two sports came the annual Golf championship, won by Alpha Phi Omega this year, and the Handball championship which Sigma Beta Phi won.

Ping-pong is rapidly becoming one of the best attended and participated sports on the intramural calendar. This year Kappa Iota Chi defeated all others to take the team title held by Phi Kappa Chi last year.

Alpha Phi Omega won the foul-shooting contest with Sigma Delta Rho and Phi Kappa Chi close behind.

The basketball tourney was one of the hottest ever held in intramural competition at the University. Sigma Beta Phi and Kappa Iota Chi, after many hard battles, finished the regular season in tie for first place. In the play-off, the Sig Bets won the title by defeating K.I.X. 29-15.

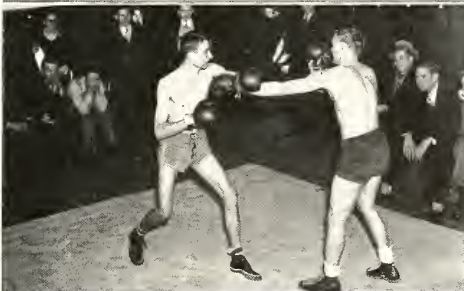

SPORT...NOT

GLORY

This year boxing again showed its popularity. Many men entered and all of the matches were high-spirited, clean, and fast. Seven new champions were crowned. Marty Slovak won the middle-weight crown with the other championships going to the following men: McCloud, light-heavy; Pontius, featherweight; Root, lightweight; VanSickle, bantamweight; Monto, welterweight; and Shaw, flyweight.

For the first time the Intramural Department sponsored a Freshman Mens' Mixer. It was held in the Mens' Gym with about 225 men present. A short program of speeches, songs, tumbling, cheers and the piano playing of Aubry Forman were featured. Ralph Conner, representing the newly organized Men's Union, was in charge.

Andy Vanyo, Director of Intramurals, aided by Art Morse, Don Rosie, and Ralph Whitsel, is responsible for this year's fine program and should receive much credit for his excellent work.

WHERE ALL ARE STOUT OF

HEART AND ST

Brezvai, Menne, Krepleever, Jones, Conn, Klopfenstein, Hinds.

Even the youthful Diana would blossom with envy, if she could see the physiques displayed by girls in the Women's Athletic Association.

Basketball was a bouncing sport! Nedra Herman sailed that ball through the air as if it were a "feather in the breeze." The beginner had a tough time when Ginny Hinds was guarding. Lou Behm is one girl who knows just the spot for the ball. "It's in the basket," referees would sigh. We know that these girls are plenty good, but beginners did not let that bother them. Judy Brezvai was always a consolation. She cheered for everything.

Attention, maidens! Don't forget volley ball. We became "sock 'em Susies." A woman may be dangerous, but what is she with a ball bat in her hands? When Margy Smith gets up to bat—hold everything!

More than one temper let loose and more than one golf ball was lost at the Ottawa Park Golf course. What did it matter if the scores were up in the hundreds when Marian Hatch was around to spur one on to success?

Tennis! That is the Krepleever game. Evelyn radiated tennis for hours after the game was played. Mary Alice Miller is a girl who just loves competition when it comes to archery. Then one day Martha Klopfenstein came out to try her luck and made a bull's eye. Then there was Helen Folger and Helen Conn, who were ready for anything.

Just mention Mrs. Marian Richley's name and the air becomes heavy with compliments. She is a friend and comrade to all. Lamora Mueller, president of W.A.A., is another laughing and lovable good sport. The ideals of good sportsmanship, held by these two women, permeated the W.A.A. organization in all its social and physical activities, thus making for success.

ALL'S FAIR

WHEN CAMPUS

Hockey is a fall game. That's when the girls are seen warmly and smartly dressed in ski pants and sweat shirts. Twenty-two excited coeds dash down the field, dribble, pass, and scoop the ball in their efforts.

Speedball is another outdoor game played in the fall. It combines a little of hockey, football, basketball, and soccer into one fast and exciting game. After some of the games there were roasts so the girls wouldn't starve before getting home.

One does not need a stiff upper lip to play volleyball, but, oh, for a strong hand. It is gobs of fun to play and not hard either.

We play basketball for fun, and proficiency. At the end of the season, intramural games are played. The sororities and independents organize teams. Inter-class games are then played with the teams grouped according to ability.

In the spring there is baseball, with eighteen players, a bat, a ball, three sandbags, and one homeplate. All one needs is two eyes, two legs, and two arms. The rest is easy!

CO-EDS TAKE

What—the golf bug never bit you? Why, you have missed half of your life. Some people say it is only a big nut chasing a little nut, but we are all nuts anyway so why not be a nuttier nut?

Then there is archery. That is simple to play. Just aim in the direction of the target but never right at it, then you will be sure to get a bull's.

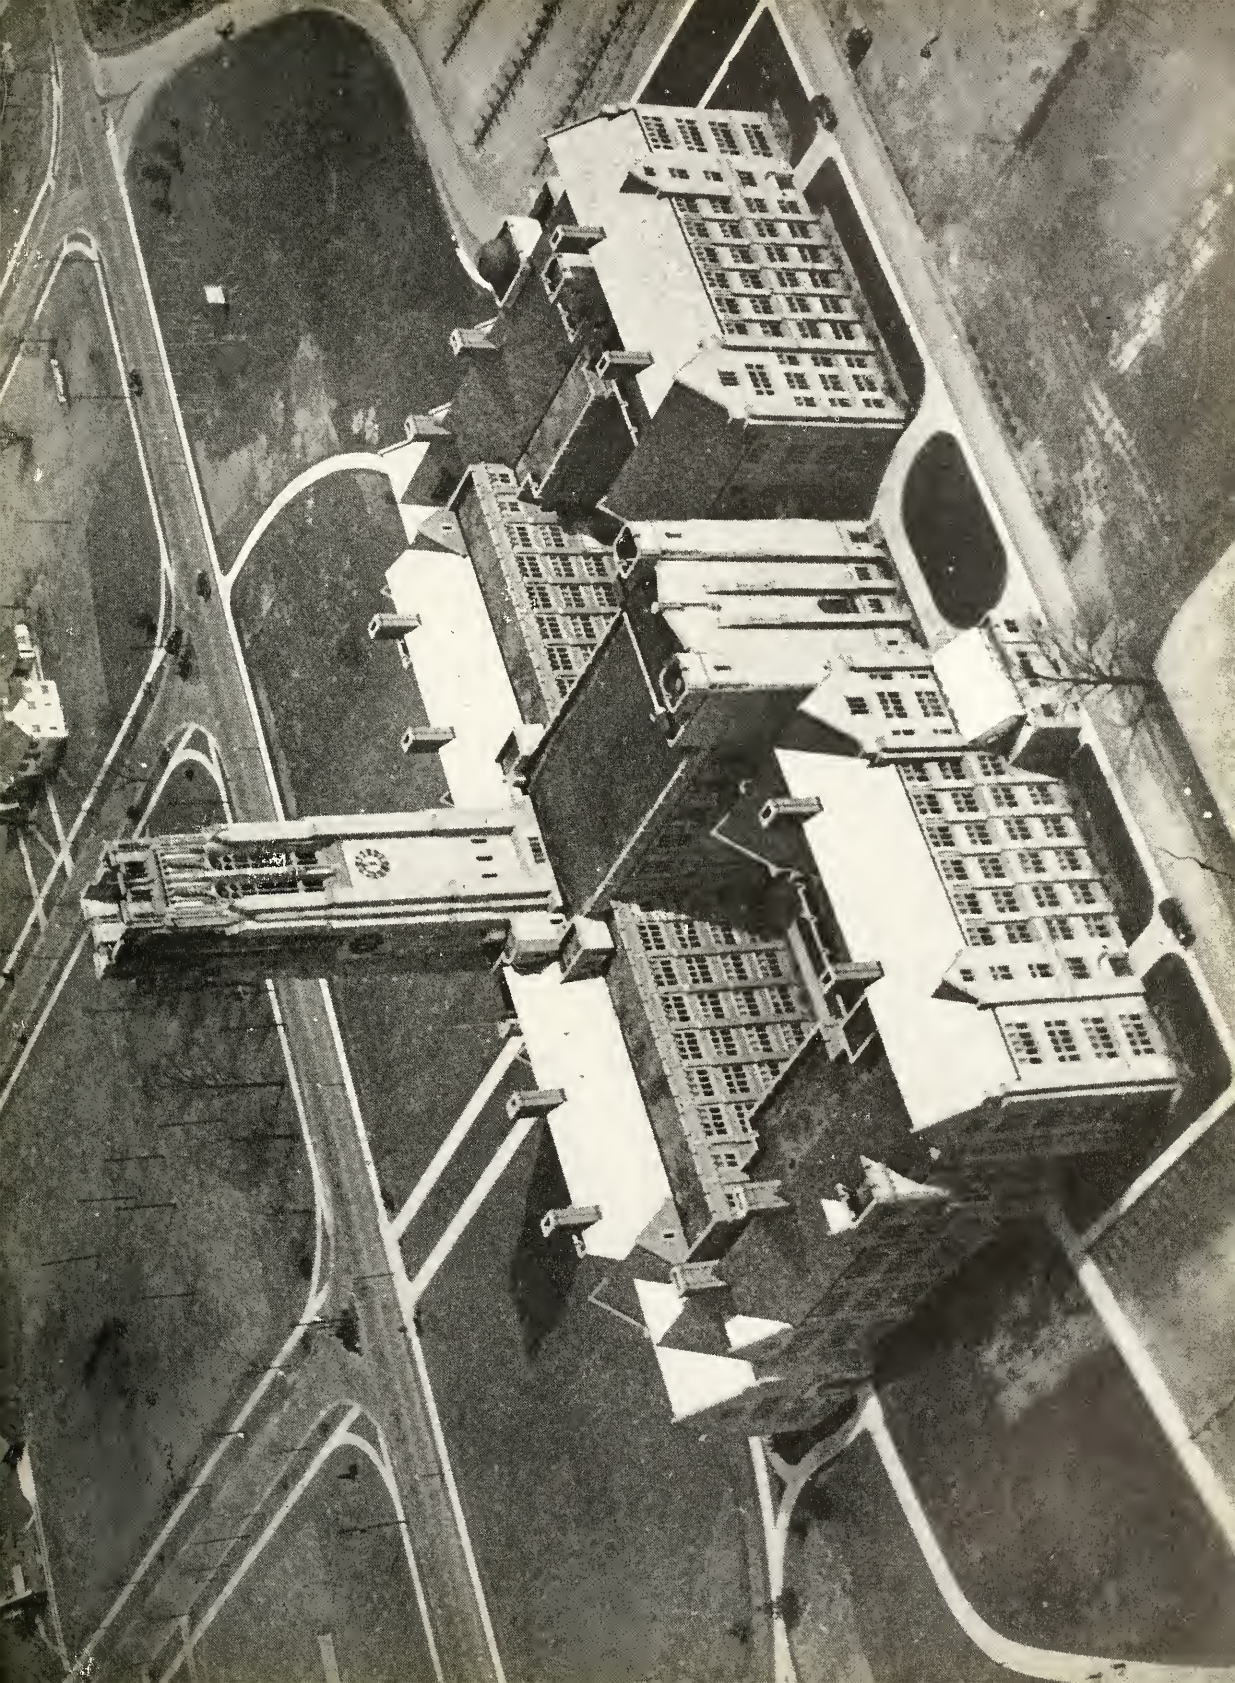

Hiking is an all-season sport. Tramp, tramp, tramp, the girls are marching, way out to the country for a roast.

Swimming classes are held at the Y.W. The life-saving tests are in the spring just before the grand finale, the W.A.A. meet. Then, the original stunts are given by each sorority and independent groups.

At any time a girl can get a friend and go to the gym for a game of ping-pong, shuffle-board, or deck tennis.
